

Connected Thermostats in Commercial Buildings

Earn More When You Verify the Savings

Connected thermostats give you more control and a clearer picture of what's happening with your HVAC system. Because they're connected through the internet, these thermostats offer some really useful features like scheduling multiple set back temperatures during unoccupied hours throughout your facility. You can more accurately match up when the heating or cooling is on with when people are using specific areas of the building.

It's your turn

Your new connected thermostats are eligible for up to four verification payments within two years of the initial install. Don't miss out on this chance for even more savings. All you have to do is contact your contractor and set up a time for a specialist to verify that your new connected thermostats are set properly.
